when their intended use is other than heating fuel or motor fuel (hereinafter: the energy products not covered by EMCS¹).

These measures are laid down in the Excise Duties Act (Official Gazette 106/2018, 121/2019 and 144/2021) and they relate to the production, processing, storage and movement of these goods when they are in bulk commercial movement i.e. when they are transported as unpackaged product in containers or in ISO-tanks regardless of their volume.

The special movement control measures apply on goods coming from or going to other EU Member States, as well as to situations where the consignment when moving between two EU Member States is just physically passing through the territory of the Republic of Croatia, including export movements (where a consignment is entering the territory of the Republic of Croatia from another EU Member State) or situations where goods are moving from the place of importation in Croatia to another Member State.

Special control measures – scope

Under the special national control measures the national excise legislation prescribes obligations for businesses and individuals performing operations with the energy products not covered by EMCS as follows:

1. Obligation of registration and obligation to obtain special authorisation from the Croatian Customs Administration (refers to natural and legal persons established in the Republic of Croatia) and obligation to maintain a record of these goods,
2. Obligation to notify the Croatian Customs Administration of:
 - the intended entry of the energy products not covered by EMCS into the territory of the Republic of Croatia,
 - the intended dispatch of the energy products not covered by EMCS from the territory of the Republic of Croatia,

These obligations refer only to the EU movement of the energy products not covered by EMCS (Union goods).
